

CITIES AS COMPLEX SYSTEMS

A PLOS ONE Collection

PLOS ONE is launching a Call for Papers, Cities as Complex Systems. Deadline 3 July, 2020.

Submit your work to our collection and help answer the important questions in urban science.

Topics of interest include:

- Urban mobility
- Urban scaling laws
- Social networks within cities
- Global networks of cities
- Urban resilience
- Financial and economic networks within and between cities
- Smart cities and Internet-of-Things
- Applications to urban and environmental planning
- New methods for analysis of urban and spatial networks
- Agent-based models of urban phenomena

Our Guest
Editors

Marta González
University of California,
Berkeley

Diego Rybski
Potsdam Institute for
Climate Impact Research